

Stargard dominated the U15 tournament

A commanding performance at the tournament in Germany led PGE Spójnia Stargard to a smooth tournament win as the boys from Poland won most of their matches by a wide margin. Unfortunately, this tournament did not offer too many dramatic and balanced matches, but it was still good basketball to see.

The most balanced game with the eventual winner was played at the very beginning of the tournament by the players of Science City Jena , who were still in sight at halftime, but eventually fell by a difference of 27 points. After all, if this high win was the lowest win, it only speaks of the dominance of PGE Spójnia Stargard at this stop.

The second very dominant team in Potsdam was the Czech team BCM Olomouc , which also won its matches by a large margin. However, he did not manage the key duel for gold with Stargard at all and lost heavily 47:85.

The match for the bronze brought a rather dramatic spectacle, in which SKM Zastal Zielona Góra rejoiced in the end, beating their rival Freak City Bamberg by a difference of 7 points.

In the final battle between the two German teams, Science City Jena was victorious, pushing the host club Academy Potsdam to the last place without a single win.
